TROUBLES OF THE POWER BOAT MEN

Skilful Work Necessary to Steer Over Shoals at the Annual Meeting.

TILES ADOPTED, CHANGED on

Hydroplane Question Now Referred to e Committee of Seven Experts.

The delegates to the American Power Bat Association and others had a strens time at its meeting in the Waldorf. which began on Friday evening and ended won the legs in the president 's cup, the distance handicap and the "doubles of the country and, according to its constitution and by-laws, is simply organized as an advisory body. The delegates discuss changes of rules as suggested the council and these in turn are ratified by each club.

Like all organizations of this kind the laws state that any proposed changes in the rules or by-laws must be sent to each delegate in advance of the meeting, and the first trouble on Friday night began when it was proposed to change the date of the annual meeting from February to November. Charles P. Tower asked if that proposed change had been embodied in the call for the meeting, and the secretary admitted that it had not. Mr. Tower then read the by-laws and stated emphatically that everything that should be done at that meeting in the way of changing the by-laws would be illegal. In this he was supported by Peter Bentley, representing the National Yacht Club, and others who in addition to being yachtsmen are lewyers of some standing. The majority of the delegates present, however and there were less than a third of the full memberehip—voted to assume that the and there were less than a third of the full membership-voted to assume that the porice had been given and went on with

The next trouble was over power of appeal to the council of the American Power Boat Association. It was proposed to amend the by-laws so that any party to a race who objected to the decision of a regatta committee might appeal from that committee to the association. This was brought up through the refusal of the National Yacht Club last summer to allow. National Yacht Club last summer to allow an appeal to be taken from its decision in the Cape May race. The argument on is question was heated. It was useless to point out that the constitution of the ssociation said that its powers were only dvisory. Some of the younger members insisted that it should be a governing body. It was only after it had been announced by some of the delegates that if he resolutions giving the right of appeal were adopted many of the leading clubs in the organization would withdraw that he proposed change was beaten.

Then various changes were made in the iles. One rule adopted said that a cruising boat must have head room in its cabin ing boat must have head room in its cabin qual to 16 per cent. of its overall length up to six feet. Various other changes were made to better define what a cruising bat is and to equalize things in these divisions. Some slight changes were made in classification. Then a rule was adopted which said a boat must be seered by a member of a club or its owner, who must be a member of a club and the amateur in good standing. After a hot discussion this was adopted.

When a delegate asked what an amateur

When a delegate asked what an amateur When a delegate asked what an amateur was it was announced that an amateur was a man who had not raced his boat for a money stake or a money prize or derived any benefit from the building of engines or boats. It was pointed out that this rule would make C.Oliver Iselin. E. D. Morgan, August Belmont, the King of England, the Emperor of Germany. King of Spain and nearly every other in the world a professional, went. Then the hydroplane but the rule went. Then the hydroplane question was tackled, and without any knowledge of the question a definition and a classification of hydroplanes were adopted which would put every hydro-plane which is now being built out of the ing game. Things were getting Another rule which passed required Another rule which passed required that if the English or any other foreign yachtsmen should come here and win the Gold Challenge cup he couldn't take it away with him, but would have to come here again and race the next season. By this time several men interested in motor boating and who, by the way, did not happen to be delegates to this association, took a hand in things. It was pointed out that the rules that had been adopted would ruin the sport, and it was pointed out so earnestly that the delegates began to listen to reason.

A resolution was passed to reconsider the amateur question, and when that amateur question, and when that came up again the new rule was beaten and the rule stands as it was originally. Then the Gold cup question came up. That too was reconsidered, and when it was pointed out that to tie the cup up with so many strings would make the it was pointed out that to tie the cup up with so many strings would make the American Power Boat men the laughing stock of the world the proposed change was beaten and the Englishmen can take the cup away if they win it. The hydroplane question next came up, and it was decided that a committee should be appointed by the chairman, by Street, to define what a hydroplane is, to arrange rules for proper handi-is, to arrange rules for proper handi-capping of these boats and arrange a classification. This committee was to consist of navel architects or hydroplane experts. The chairman appointed Messrs. whittaker, Crouch, Fauber, Crane, Gielew, Chase and Clark, land these men are inget to work and report within ten days. The deed of gift governing the Gold Challenge cup was changed so that any boat under forty feet in length is eligible. The old officers were reelected. These are President Koehner of Buffalo, Treasurer J. Norris Oliphant and Secretary Morris M. Whittaker.

MANUAL LEADS AT HOCKEY. Beats De Witt Clinton Team in Hard

Fought Game. Manual Training increased her lead in the High School Hockey League tourna-ment yesterday, beating De Witt Clinton n a game in the St. Nicholas Rink. It was Manual's hardest game and the one of which she had the most fear, and the interest in the match was correspondingly great. Seaver, the Manual rover, made the first goal five minutes after the first half began. Taylor of De Witt Clinton succeeded in placing the puck in the same half and the score was tied when the sec-ond period began. The Manual line assumed all the aggressive playing, but met with hard opposition, which they were able to penetrate only once. This was at the middle of the period, when Thomas scored the winning goal.

The teams of Harstrom and Nichols Schools played a tie game in which both sides made one goal. The play was fast and interesting, with much shooting and rapid skating.

HIGGINSON'S FINE SHOOTING. CHALLENGE HERE FOR

Club Will Accept Challenge and range for Its Defence on Tuesday.

The challenge for a race for the British nternatio nal trophy was received yes-terday by Secretary Morley of the Motor Boat Club of America. It was taken to the Motor Boat Show in the afternoon and handed to Henry R. Sutphen, who soon announced the pleasing news.

The challenge comes from the Royal Motor Yacht Club and is as follows: LONDON, England, Feb. 12, 1912.

Secretary of the Motor Boot Club of America 37 Wall St., New York, U. S. A.1 DEAR SILL British International Trophy -I am directed to forward to you a forma challenge on behalf of the Royal Motor Yacht Club for this year's races for the British International Trophy and shall be glad to receive your acknowledgment of the same in due course.

Relieve me, yours very truly, W. A. JUPP, Secretary.

Commodore Melville has called a meeting of the board of governors of the Motor Boat Club of America for next Tuesday evening, when the challenge will be formally accepted and arrangements made for the defence of the trophy. This challenge was expected. It was announced in THE SUN last week that the Royal Motor Yacht Club had decided to challenge and so motor boat men were not surprised. Already perparations are under way for the defence of the trophy. At the Electric Launch works at Bayonne a 40 foot hydroplane similar in model to the Bug has been built for Albert F. Smith. he Bug has been built for Albert E. Smith. This boat is to be equipped with two 300 horse-power Standard motors and one of these was on exhibition at the show last week. With this power it is expected that the new boat, which is to be named Columbia, will make forty-seven miles

Columbia, will make forty-seven miles an hour.

Clinton H. Crane, who designed the Dixies, has received an order for a new boat for the defence of the trophy and work on this boat will be started in a few days. This boat will be faster than the Dixie IV, unless all signs fail.

There are other boats under way. One is being built by Lawley, which is expected to be eligible for this class and it is very probable that Commodore J. Stuart Blackton will have another. It is common gossip that such a boat is already under way. Some Western motor boat men will have boats and the challengers will have to go fast to win.

This boat is building from designs by Thorneycroft and will have three screws driven by Yauxhall engines. Each engine will have eight cylinders of approximately 3.5 by 5.5 inches.

A challenger is said to be building for the Duke of Westminster, who owns the Pioneer. It is rumored too that the French will send over boats this year and that one having from 1,000 to 1,300 horsepower is almost ready.

END OF MOTOR BOAT SHOW.

Exhibition a Big Success and Sport to Be Very Popular. eighth annual Motor Boat ended last night. It was another big day as far as attendance went and another big day for sales. Every exhibitor in the show reports big business and every one is delighted with the outlook for the coming season. Not only will there be fine sport in the racing classes, but the cruising classes will be very much improved with the addition of boats that will be

The popularity of the hydroplane boat has been firmly established. Several of the Elco-Planes, several Dixie Juniors and many of the other types have been ordered, and the prospects of fine racing in these classes during the year are exceedingly bright. If the committee now in charge of the work of framing a rule to govern these boats can agree on some satisfactory formula the boats will be raced so that the first one in will win the race. This will make the contest exceedingly interesting from a spectacular eedingly interesting from a spectacular oint of view. One of the troubles with motor boat racing has always been that after boats are finished time allowances have to be figured an doften the last boat home has been found to win the cup.

The reason the U.S. N. L. T. A. waited the last minute was because the officials wanted to have a consultation with William A. WALLOWING IN OPULENCE

Having a Fat Balance of $7,000-Trying to Sidetrack he Hammer Throw.

Several records were broken at the annual convention of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America held a the Waldorf-Astoria yeserday afternoon. In the first place have been few meetings of the association at which the business at hand has bee treated with such promptness and des patch, and furthermore it was the second meeting in twenty-one years which Gus-tavus T. Kirby, chairman of the graduate advisory committee, has failed to attend There is no relation between these two facts because there was little business to be transacted anyway and Mr. Kirby probably could not have added very much to what was said.

One of the most important questions was the selection of a field for the 1912 intercollegiate contests. The executive recommended that the meeting be held at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, and eventually it was decided to hold it there, although there was a lot of discussion over the relative advantages of the Syracuse stadium and Franklin Field. The as-sociation gave the courtesy of the figor to Murray S. Stedman, graduate manager of athletics at Syracuse, and he talked at length on the invitation that had been proffered by the Syracuse association. He said that he did not intend to enter into a controversy with any other institution olicy of the intercollegiate association to foster the development of track athletics among its members, and that for that ery reason it was but a part of the policy to hold the annual competitions in differ-ent localities in order that the scope and mportance of the association be broad-P. P. Mulford, speaking for the Pennsylvania track management, said that one of the objections against holding the meeting at Franklin Field had been removed by the action of the Pennsylvania Athletic Association in amending its contitution prohibiting the use of the regular games. This action, the Pennsylvania reprepresentative said, would result in a much greater financial success for the meet than at any of the previous meet-ings at Franklin Field. When a vote was taken six of the seventeen institutions were in favor of Syracuse, and the meet will be held at Franklin Field on May 31 and June 1. Mr. Stedman immediately placed before the convention an invitation to hold the games at Syracuse next year and this was received with thanks, although no action was taken on it. Last year was the most successful that the I. C. A. A. A. A. ever experienced. The net profits from the games held in the Harvard Stadium amounted $5,831.57. The total receipts from sources for the year were $11.642.35 and the association has a balance in the treas-ury of $7,664.98. A dividend of $1,000, de-clared by the executive committee, was ratified and this will be distributed among the colleges that had more than ten men at the last championships. These are: -Cornell, 26: Pennsylvania, 24; Yale, 22; Princeon, 16: Dartmouth, 14, and Mich-igan, 11. Harvard was represented by thirty-four men, but does not share in the dividend because the meet was held in Boston.

On the motion of Hugh L. Gaddis of Harvard the executive committee was empowered to investigate the hammer throwing event and report on it and a suitable substitute at the next convention. Gaddis suggested that a 35 pound weight event be substituted, which would be far less dangerous for the spectators and competitors alike and also would afford a more interesting event for the spectators. The committee will not report for a year and it will be at least another year before its indings become operative, so that at the begt the hammer throw will not be climinated until the spring of 1914. The question is one which has come up from time to time.
